The Knight Academy Reviewed.

Flattering Prospects for the Coming Season's Work—Four New Teachers Added to Staff.

October 17, 1910!—a day which, as time passes, will be more and more enshrined in the hearts of all Latter-day Saints and their friends in Canada!—not for one day, not for one year, not for one century nor for one age, but for the never-ending eternity to come. And why, it may be asked? Be it remembered, then, that on October 17, 1910, the Knight (nee the Taylor) Academy opened its doors to students,—students eager and aglow to cross the threshold, as students, of a Mormon college. And, coincidental or providential as the case may be, this memorable event occurred just 34 years, to the day, after the opening of the parent Mormon college at Provo, Utah.

Since that day the first academic year has been running, up till very recently. Happily, during this time the Knight Academy has passed far beyond the experimental stage. Students, to the number of 230 have come and gone; and the first academic year, with all its attendant perplexities and anxieties, has come to a close, more or less in a blaze of glory. And, barring a few, the students never tire of speaking words of praise for their prospective Alma Mater. And what does the Knight Academy mean?—mean to the community?—mean to the boys and girls?—mean to the town of Raymond?

The answer to questions one and two may be found in the generous expressions of appreciation which are heard upon every hand, from leading men and women, from parents, from prosiding authority, from the boys and girls themselves. Measure, if measurement be possible, the value of the Knight Academy upon the morals, the ethics, the classic tone of a community, when the education taught to the students cares alike for the concurrent development of the Mind, the Hand, the Heart, and the Spirit. To such a system of training out boys and girls, whose names spell success in life, will yet point with just commendation.

To Raymond, as a town, the Knight Academy means as much as any other single thing. It means development. It means the erection of beautiful homes. It means an educational atmosphere. In means a stratum of society towards which the good and pure will gravitate. In a word, the Knight Academy, along with the many other natural advantages in our growing town, spells success for Raymond,—success in its broadest, its most comprehensive, its most satisfying aspect.

For the future, the Local Educational Board have in mind many important changes and improvements. First of all, they have authorized substantial additions to the faculty for the incoming year. Then too, new courses of study will be added to meet the growing demands of the times.

Following is a brief statement of the courses to be offered next year, together with a list of the faculty thus far employed:—

The first of these meetings was held on Tuesday last. The Literature Lesson was given by Miss Dorothy Young, it being on "Silas Marner" by G. Elliot, but owing to the lateness of the hour in which it was taken up this lesson did not last very long, so the balance of the evening was spent in games which developed the Athletic abilities of the girls as well as the mental ones. There were 35 girls present and all reported an excellent time.

TABER WINS BASEBALL GAME

With the rain pouring down and on a muddy diamond the Taber and Raymond Baseball teams fought for supremacy on Friday evening last. The game was a good one from start to finish and had it not been for errors made by one of the Raymond players the score would have been even, as it was the score was 2 to 0 in favor of Taber.

An Open Letter from Women's Club

Of Interest to the Women of Southern Alberta—From the Club at Calgary.

Dear Fellow Countrywomen:—

It is impossible for the women of this Province to regard with indifference the rapidly increasing inroads which that insidious disease Tuberculosis, is making on the young life of our people.

Hundreds of consumptives have come here in the hope that the clear air and bright sun of Alberta would restore them to health. These have sought, and seek for accommodation suitable to their diseased condition. Everyone knows that the uneducated, and the careless consumptive scatters widespread germs of diseases that will infect others. Yet physicians who have made a special study of Tuberculosis assure us that this infection is not a necessity. They tell us that the clean, the careful, the informed consumptive will not communicate the infection, and need not endanger his associates.

In our Province there is no Sanatorium where the victims of this disease can be cared for, and taught how they can care for themselves. There is dispensary where treatment can be received and patients instructed how they can guard against infecting the public. There is no protection, no organized effort to prevent its fatal progress; hence, this awful malady is like a mighty octopus stretching out in all directions hauling in its victims by shoals.

But medical science tells us that this dread disease is a preventable one. Given the right conditions and the proper care it can be wiped out; its death roll can be cleared. And yet at the present time statistics show that this preventable disease bears to the grave one in seven of the population of our country; and one in three between the ages of fifteen and forty who finds an untimely grave are the victims of Tuberculosis.

This fact should awaken the people of Alberta to a realization of the danger that surrounds them. It should arouse everyone to sound the alarm that will set in motion those forces which possess the latent power, which if stirred to action, could reduce the death rate away the suffering, and avert the poverty which this disease entails, and stay its terrible ravages.

This fact should cause every woman to realize that the danger is near her door, and that she should put forth intelligent effort to prevent its entrance. It should teach every mother that her own children are threatened, and she must not remain indifferent.

Among the forces whose energies ought to be enlisted in this life saving campaign is, the government, Federal, Provincial and Municipal are perhaps the most powerful and surely not the least responsible.

The Canadian Government is a government of the people by the people. Therefore it is the people of one accord, and with one voice express their just demands, these just demands the government must grant. It then resolves into this; the negligence of the Government is due to the silence or indifference.

Here then lies a work for women of this Province, to break this silence; to rouse into activity this indifference.

In democratic governments such as ours legislation is brought about by the pressure and insistence of those interested. The women of the Province are the class most interested in combating this disease. On them falls heaviest the burden of care and sorrow which it entails. On them falls heaviest the burden of care and sorrow which it entails. Then let the women make a strong, a united appeal to the Provincial Legislature that it assume a responsibility which rightly belongs to it and which has too long been shirked.

It is during the years of greatest industrial usefulness, at a period when the individual is of greatest value to the people is sapped. Then from an economic standpoint alone an expenditure of public funds that would care for the consumptive and control infection would pay the State.

From the committee on Tuberculosis of the Women's Canadian Club at Calgary.

Mrs. R. C. Harvey and her son were thrown from their rig on Tuesday last and severely shaken up. No bones were broken, however, and they are able to be around, although they have a few aches.
